WOMAN'S WORLD

Mr. Louis C. Wolf, who for some time has been connected with the Meyer & Lindorf store of this city, accompanied by his sister, Mrs. A. R. Lindorf and daughters, Ruth and Gladys, left Sunday for Laporte, Indiana, where Mr. Wolf will be initiated in marriage this week to a charming young woman of that city. They will enjoy a tour on the Great Lakes to Duluth and upon their return will come to Newark and make their future home here, residing for the present with Mr. and Mrs. Lindorf of 69 West Church street.

In all truth it can be said of the dance at the Country Club Monday evening that it was the most delightful social event of the summer-tide. Mr. Russell Rising acted as host and his guests, Messrs. Donald Danell of Hillsboro and V. J. Robinson of Toledo, accepted the honors extended for the evening. Japanese lanterns graced the large porch which made a pleasant retreat for the dancers while Mayne O'Neill, Mr. Ed Dunn and Mr. Mon Shiner played an inspiring program of music from eight until midnight. In the living room the guests were welcomed by Mr. Russell Rising, Mr. Danell, Mr. Robinson, Misses Helen, Mary Sherwood, Frances and Martha Wright of Newark, Mr. John Sherwood Plock and Mr. Fred Wright both of Newark, Misses Helen, Elizabeth, Priscilla and Dorothy Whaley and Mr. Jamie Wright.—Lancaster Eagle.

The Art Embroidery club was entertained this week by Mrs. Charles Horcher of Maple avenue and a few hours spent in needlework and social conversation followed by the serving of a delicious luncheon. The guests of the club were Mrs. Frank Albright and daughter Mildred and Mrs. Ernest Forrest. The next meeting of the club will be held August 24 at the home of Mrs. Charles Grill in South Third street.

Club women of Ohio are looking forward in delightful anticipation to October when the latter part or probably the third week of that month the annual meeting of the Ohio Federation of Women's clubs will be held. Oberlin will be the entertaining town this year and promises right royally to care for the club women. While the complete program is not yet ready for announcement suffice it to say it will be one in which every woman interested in humanity will care for. This year for the first time, Mrs. Addison F. Broomhall of Troy, the presiding officer elected at the meeting held in Lima last year, will occupy the president's chair. An interesting feature will be the meeting of the Ohio Newspaper Woman's association on Monday of Federation week, reaching a climax in the banquet to be held on Monday evening. Lima club and newspaper women will attend. A part of the hospitality extended so graciously last fall will now be reciprocated and no doubt, enjoyed by Lima women who exerted every effort last year to make the federation gathering a success.

The Vacation Outlook.

Most people look upon their vacation as a time simply for recreation. This, of course, is what it should be primarily, taking recreation in its broadest sense. The holiday taken in the summer, particularly by workers, should build them over again, restore lost tissue and strength, make them physically ready and able for the winter's work ahead. But a vacation should do a little more than this. It should provide the opportunity to take account of stock of one's self and one's prospects. It will pay everyone to take a few hours of his vacation and use them for a look ahead at the coming year, and a look behind at the year gone. He should cast up accounts mentally and financially, see where he stands, and whither he is going. This can be done to best advantage in the quiet and leisure of vacation hours. Some time, surely, can be secured when one can steal away from the crowd for this outlook.

Such a procedure is particularly helpful to the ambitious business girl, though it is valuable to anyone anxious to get ahead. In the rush and turmoil of business, or study, one cannot always get a long look, and a long look, now and then, both backward and forward, is necessary to steer a direct course. When one's mind is held down to the business in hand, when all one's time is occupied with it, one cannot always see just whither he is going. Vacation offers the time, and, in addition, absence and detachment from one's regular work enable one to see more clearly.

It is well to look back over the year that has passed since the last vacation to see if one has made progress, is one farther ahead mentally, in business, in health, in money saved? Or is one exactly

Pocketbook Rolls — Scald half a pint of milk, and one teaspoonful of salt and one heaping tablespoonful of butter; cool and add one yeast cake dissolved with one teaspoonful of sugar, sufficient flour, about one and a half pints, to make a dough. Knead thoroughly. Cover and let stand in a warm place to rise. Roll into a sheet; cut with a round cutter; brush one-half with melted butter; fold over the other half, lay on a greased pan in a warm place to rise again. Brush over with beaten egg or milk and bake in a hot oven for twenty minutes.
Roman Punch — Freeze one quart of lemon ice very hard. Take out the dasher and stir constantly with a spoon, adding one cup of brandy and one cup of sherry. Beat well, pack and let stand two hours to ripen before serving. Serve in punch glasses.

MRS. SHEPARDSON IS COMPLIMENTED

Mrs. Daniel Shepardson Jr., has returned from Rock Lodge Chautauqua, where she has been lecturing on Oriental Lights in the Bible. In a testimonial presented to Mrs. Shepardson by the directors of the Chautauqua and General Secretary of the Associated Charities in Detroit, these words of praise for Mrs. Shepardson are read: "Mrs. Shepardson has entered into the life of the Orient in a most intimate and sympathetic manner and is quick to catch the spiritual significance. * * * The Bible becomes a new book."
On or about September 15, Mrs. Shepardson has consented to repeat the lecture which she gave in the Second Presbyterian church. This time it will be presented to the public in the Y. M. C. A. hall. Many who had the privilege of hearing it on that occasion, have expressed a desire to hear it again. No doubt a large number will be present.

J. C. MARRIOTT IS ASSISTANT H. S. PRINCIPAL

At a meeting of the Board of Education held Tuesday evening, J. C. Marriott, teacher of mathematics and English at the High school, was elected assistant principal for the ensuing year. Quite a grist of business was ground out by the board members who were present. At roll call Messrs. Kibler, Boggs, Conrad, Miller and Clerk Keller were present and the work of the evening was rapidly gotten under way.
Miss Lillian H. Smith, who conducted a kindergarten in the Woodside school last year, was again granted the use of the room. As the first year German text book that has been used in the high school is out of print, the board adopted William C. Collar's First Year German for use during the coming year.
Clerk Keller was authorized to purchase two typewriters, an Oliver and Underwood, for use in the commercial room at the high school.
Several shifts were made in the janitors of the schools and Allen Mitchell was appointed janitor at the Woodside school to succeed Mr. Handie, recently appointed transient officer. As C. A. Mosier, who has been janitor at the North Fourth street building applied for a transfer to the East Main street building, George L. Bowser was elected as janitor at the North End school. C. E. Croner was elected as janitor and engineer at the high school, and his salary was increased from $720 to $850 a year, as it will be necessary for him to employ an assistant.
Announcement was made that the schools of the city will open Tuesday, September 6 for the first semester.

NOW TAKE WATER WORKS MANAGEMENT OUT OF POLITICS

When the Newark City Council purchased the old water plant it exercised sound business judgment. It is true many thousands of dollars would have been saved to Newark taxpayers had this action been taken long ago before so much of the old system was paralleled, but it is of little use to dwell upon what has been except by referring to closed incidents that it may enable the city to avoid similar mistakes in the future.
The city now has a half million dollars invested in water works and for the first time since the construction of the municipal plant was started five years ago the city is about to realize a return upon this big investment. To have completed the new plant would have cost $150,000 or more and there was no way under the shining sun to raise the needed money. By putting $100,000 down as a partial payment on the old plant the property becomes part of the municipal plant and the deferred payments, amounting to $50,000, will be met at the rate of $12,000 a year out of the earnings of the property. Without buying the old plant there would have been no earnings for the city until the new plant was finished in the dim and very distant future because of the fact that the city is under the law not allowed to issue any more bonds.
Now Newark has a valuable property in the condensed water system, a property that should not be good management produce at an early day a gross revenue of $50,000 annually. The old plant today produces $10,000 and no effort has been made for years to extend its service because of the unsettled condition of the water problem in Newark.
At last the city authorities have acted like business men in uniting the two plants and now that this important step has been taken they should continue to use the same good business judgment in the management of the plant. So far as Newark's water works is concerned it doesn't matter whether the superintendent is a Democrat, Republican, Prohibitionist or Socialist. He should be a man who is competent in every way to fill the position. He should be efficient, honest and energetic, and possess the requisite knowledge. To be more specific he should be known to possess the various qualifications to a degree that there will be no doubts about it in the public mind.
Let the city council take such steps as may be necessary to remove the water works entirely from municipal politics and run it as a corporation or an individual would conduct a private enterprise. If managed with good business sense, honestly and economically, as it should be, the water works will be a good proposition for Newark. By mismanagement, by "playing politics" with it the water plant will be a "white elephant" and a very expensive one.

In speaking of the general rejoicing over the country that Mayor Gaynor is still gaining, the Philadelphia Record remarks that he is well named.

COLUMBUS AS OTHERS SEE HER

The Marion Mirror depicts conditions in Columbus most graphically in the following headlines: "Columbus Dead as the Geologic Ages Trade at a Standstill. Dynamers Avoid it. Travelers Pass On. The People Walk and the Wicked Swear Some. But the Governor Rises to the Situation and Enforces Law. Meanwhile the Mephistopheles, One Stewart, Remains to be a Haunt to Thousands and a Knot on the World's Log."

CLEAN UP RIGHT.

It has come to light that Watkins who wants a third term as member of the state board of public works has a nephew holding two jobs and drawing two salaries on the state payroll, and also has a brother on the payroll at a good salary.
You will remember that when Governor Harmon lifted Rodgers out of the office of state fire marshal it was discovered that Rodgers had a brother on the payroll who said he was "a sleuth from the Atlantic to the Pacific."

What easy picking Ohio must have been in the good old g. o. p. days before Harmon was given the job of house-cleaning.

Why not make it "Harmon and a clean sweep next time" so that the house cleaning job can be completed before Judson Harmon retires from the office of governor? How can the voters of Ohio expect him to finish up the job and do it right by hampering him with a hostile legislature and surrounding him with other state officials identified with the g. o. p. losses?

No man would hire a hand to build a fence and employ four or five other men to tear it down as fast as the one man could build it up or to roll logs and stumps in the way or the man who is expected to do so much lone handed. Governor Harmon has had the active assistance of only one state official Treasurer Creamer, during his first term, and the results are to be seen in the way the state funds have been handled. He has been obliged to push Denman into performing duties required of him, and other Republican state officials have either lagged or worked some secretly and some openly as lobbyists with a Republican legislature to handicap his administration.

"Harmon and a clean sweep next time" will mean the completion of the gigantic task of house-cleaning which Governor Harmon had only just begun.
I will do the state of Ohio good to have a complete cleaning out and cleaning up. Governor Harmon has been able to accomplish a great deal in spite of all the partisan opposition that has handicapped him, but he can't do it all alone. It is up to you to help him by surrounding him with state officials and a legislature that will also help.

Let us see: Do Aldrich, Ballinger and Cannon contribute the A. B. C. of the Republican Regulars? If so, the nationalism that is now threatening them and the party are reaching before the entire abolition is exhausted.

WHAT'S THE USE?

What if Secretary Ballinger was finally forced out of the cabinet and Senator Aldrich and Speaker Cannon in the future are to be in less direct contact with the administration, as indicated in dispatches from Beverly. How is that going to save the sinking g. o. p. ship?

All this will be a confession of the truth of all the charges that have been made against the Taft administration.

Getting rid of Ballinger and Cannon, and Aldrich will not remove the nation from the man who signed the tariff bill, who has repeatedly called it "the best ever" and who picked Ballinger in the first place.

There will still be something left to do in 1912.

IN GOOD OLD SUMMER TIME.

NOW FOR THE SOUTH SIDE THIS AND THAT

Our city has now stopped further outlay in its water works project. In its stead an income has been provided for by the purchase of the old plant and its consolidation with the municipal system. Now some attention should be devoted to the heretofore neglected South Side. That portion of our city is in need of some improvements that deserve immediate attention.

Newark may have to run over and settle that Columbus riding after all.

Backeye Lake Park will not close until after Labor Day—the first Monday in September.

A general strike of union employees of the Salem, Mass., shoe factories has just commenced.

The sample of rain received in Newark Friday night was O. K. Please send on a full-sized order.

The population of Schenectady, N. Y., is 32,820, an increase of 12.9 per cent since 1900. That town's getting almost large enough to have a decent name.

It is probable that there will be no state fair in Columbus this year on account of the street car strike. Why not hold the state fair in Newark?

Beverly was shocked by the news that the Old Guard in New York had turned down Theodore Roosevelt. The New York Republican committee refused to recommend the colonel for temporary chairman of the state convention, but selected Vice President James S. Sherman instead.

There is talk of making Dr. W. O. Thompson, president of Ohio State University, the successor of Secretary of the Interior Ballinger. Dr. Thompson is a former Licking county man, but that isn't the only good thing that can be said of him.

SPLENDID FARM FOR SALE

180 a., known as the Beaver farm, or Excelsior Farm, situated 1 1/2 miles N. E. of Pataskala, Licking Co., Ohio. House and buildings fronting on the Columbus and Newark road.

Here is a rare chance to secure a fine farm and good home in a slightly and healthy location, the house being located on a beautiful gravelly knoll, surrounded by fine, stately shade trees, just far enough from the public road to be out of the dust and secure a good view.

Buildings.
House of seven rooms, built when timber was no object, finished in brown walnut in the old colonial style. A good horse barn, fitted with six regular horse stalls, besides box stalls, granaries, corn crib, wagon shed, buggy shed and turn out house. Also a large dairy barn, will accommodate 25 cows, with storage for several tons of mill feed and 60 tons of hay.

Well watered 13 unfailing wells, spring branch, 5 springs, windmill pump with storage tank, hydrants, etc., piped in the house and dairy barn, automatic stock drinking trough for winter use and cooler for the milk.

The place now has 100 a. of pasture, 37 a. meadow, 23 a. wheat stubble that were set to clover and timothy, will be meadow next year, 6 or 7 a. corn, 13 a. virgin timber, and about 7 a. open timber.

Sugar Camp.
About 500 locust trees, many of which are now ready for use, making the farm self supporting in post timber of the very best grade for all time.

My reasons for selling—Having moved my family to Oregon some three years ago, we now wish to transfer our holdings to our present home.

Price $100 per a. Some terms can be arranged for on deferred payments.

The farm is listed with no agents, therefore no commissions to pay. Deal direct with the owner.

A. M. BEAVER, Pataskala, Ohio.

WILL MARKET VALUABLE DEVICE
Recently a charter was granted to the Frank B. Kent Company, capitalized at $100,000. The incorporators are, beside Mr. Fant, Moller D. Jones and Roy W. Kummer. The company was organized to market an improved automobile ignition and lighting system, an invention of Mr. Fant. Mr. Fant is a resident of Newark, Mr. Jones is a member of the firm of Ayres & Jones, attorneys, and Mr. Kummer was, until recently, connected with the Overland Company of Toledo. The system does away with a spark lever on the steering wheel of an automobile, gives a constant duration of spark at all engine speeds and starts the motor from the seat.

SOME ADVICE
Addressed to Would-Be Governor Harding.
(Communicated.)
My Dear Sir:—To aspire to the office of governor of Ohio is a truly noble ambition and to be nominated for that office by a great political party—even if George B. Cox did give you the 91 votes of Hamilton county—is an honor of which you may justly feel proud. I take it that your ambition is not altogether egotistic and that you really desire, if elected, to give the people a successful and useful administration.
You surely cannot be blamed for desiring to make an efficient campaign—may I hope that you are anxious to make it a real "campaign of education" for the people?
You will remember that when Abraham Lincoln entered upon his senatorial campaign in Illinois in 1858, he would not ask the people's suffrages without declaring to them his sacred conviction that this government could not permanently endure "half slave, half free. Will you be as sincere and as "honest" in the deep broad sense of the term in all you may say to save this year as he was in that ever memorable campaign? Will you be just as anxious to instruct and enlighten the people and make them understand your position as he was?
The platform on which you were nominated requires you to indorse and defend the Payne Aldrich tariff. Now I have no doubt you can sincerely justify many of its provisions and possibly show that most of its rates are lower than those of the Dingley bill; but can you maintain that this law was conceived and enacted in the spirit of the Republican platform of 1908? On the contrary it seems to me you must realize that instead of seeking to impose such tariff rates as would be equal to the difference in the cost of production between this country and other countries, plus a reasonable profit to manufacturers, this promise of the Republican convention was openly derided and disregarded by the leaders of your party in Congress and such rates were generally enacted as the various interests desired for their continued profit and enrichment. It would be too much to say, perhaps, that this tariff was conceived in sin and brought forth in iniquity, but a great many people have a notion that such was the case and you will find it the hardest task of your life to make them think otherwise. To say the least this tariff bill was conceived in Cannonism and brought forth in Aldrichism.
You may be able to discern the face of the sky, Mr. Harding, but you can not discern the signs of the times, if you expect the people to stand for a tariff enacted as this one was. Let me tell you there will be no peace in Zion until Mr. Aldrich and Mr. Cannon are forever deposed from their leadership and a genuine effort is made to make good the promise that was written in the Republican platform of 1908. You surely are not so innocent as to suppose that you can go sweeping through the gates of the New Jerusalem by shouting the shibboleth of "Protection" and conjuring up the ghost of "Free Trade!"
Your platform requires you to support the income tax amendment proposed by the administration—will you do this coldly and formally like Mr. Taft or will you boldly declare that it is a measure of justice and righteousness and that the government should be sustained by taxing wealth and prosperity instead of labor and poverty? Will you have the virtue to declare that it is high time for John D. Rockefeller, and J. P. Morgan, and Andrew Carnegie, and Nelson W. Aldrich, and Joseph G. Cannon, and Charles P. Taft, and John R. McLean, and George B. Cox, and Eugene Hale, and the Vanderbilts, and the Guggenheims, et id omne genus, to contribute a little something to the support of the government?
And this brings me to my final point, which is that the people are showing with real alarm the increased and ever increasing power of the monied interests, and are seeing in this power a most serious menace to a free government. Do you, Mr. Harding, or do you not, appreciate the magnitude and importance of this issue? Do you fully realize that there is such an issue in the public mind, and that no man can be a real leader and educator of the people in this year of grace who seeks to gain the support and confidence of the "malefactors of great wealth?"
The people of Ohio can not ask or expect you to define your position on all the points of this mighty issue; but they would surely like to know whether your sentiment and disposition are on the side of the people or on the side of the money power; that you must know is seeking to control our government.
I will not undertake to say whether the course I have recommended to you would make you governor of Ohio or not; but I am certain that if you pursue this course whatever be the result of the November election, you will have a voice in your own breast which saith, "Well done, good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of the Lord"—which is the joy of those who stand for the truth and always strive to serve their fellow-men.
In conclusion let me quote you from Cardinal Welsey's exhortation to Thomas Cromwell:
"Be just and fear not. Let all the ends Thou almost be thy country's, thy God's.
And truths. Then if thou fall'st, O Cromwell, Thou fall'st a blessed martyr!"
Yours sincerely,
M. R. SCOTT.

TAFT SLEEPS IN AUTOMOBILE

Chief Executive Snatches Little Naps Between Activities.

Beverly, Mass., Aug. 17.—The secret of President Taft's splendid health is out. It is his ability to take advantage of every opportunity to recuperate from his labors and to snatch a few minutes of refreshing sleep between activities.

Residents along the shore boulevard have grown accustomed to the sudden appearance of an automobile with a big passenger just visible through the dust, and that passenger sound asleep. It is the president. The executive often sleeps in his automobile going or coming from the Myopia golf links, that is, when he makes the journey alone. The other day when the presidential party motored 71 miles over to see Miss Della Torrey, the aunt of the chief magistrate, the executive slumbered peacefully nearly all the way back. The automobile went nearly 45 miles an hour the greater part of the way.

It is this faculty of the president to snatch a moment's rest at every available opportunity—the ability to throw off the cares of state and gain strength in little cat naps—that keeps the head of the nation strong and healthy despite his arduous labors. It is said that on his trip across the continent and back last fall, the president would board his special train completely worn out after a speech or reception, drop into a car and in a moment be fast asleep. Twenty minutes later, when a car d at another station clamored for his appearance he would awal fully refreshed.

Captain Archie Butt, military aide, has caught the habit. It is a common sight late in the evening to catch a sight of the presidential automobile under an electric light, and see both President Taft and Captain Butt sound asleep. There are always two other occupants, however, who are very much awake—Robinson, the chauffeur, and the secret service operative.

JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY SUFFERS FROM PARALYSIS

Indianapolis, August 17.—James Whitcomb Riley, the "Hoosier poet," is seriously ill at his home in this city as the result of a stroke of paralysis. As this is his first stroke,

JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY

It is thought he has a splendid chance of recovery, but his confinement to his home for several weeks is causing anxiety among his friends. Mr. Riley was born in 1852 and commenced writing for Indiana newspapers in 1877, since which time he has written several volumes of humorous verse and prose, most of which are in a middle western dialect.

TWO OBJECTS

In View—The Buckeye State Building and Loan Company, Rankin Building, 22 West Gay Street, Columbus, Ohio.

1. To establish an absolutely safe place in which people can deposit their money. This is being done by loaning all money deposited with it only on homes—the safest of all mortgage loans.
2. To loan all money so deposited for the building of homes, at the most reasonable rates to borrowers consistent with sound business principles. To these ends we work. Assets over $4,200,000.

A word to the wise is sufficient, but the trouble is to find them.

GIRL DISAPPEARS MYSTERIOUSLY

Bellefontaine, Aug. 17.—The authorities today are searching for Marie Petersheim, 14, who disappeared yesterday from the home of her foster parents. She left a note saying she had found her real father and had gone to him.

Her father, Frank Cox, said today that he had never made himself known to the girl and did not know what had become of her. The police suspect she was lured away by some man who represented himself to her as her father.

Marie was placed in the Logan County Children's Home when she was an infant, by her father. Her mother died in a state asylum when the baby was ten months old. It was adopted by R. J. Petersheim and his wife, who had no children.

There Are Big Crop Profits Here For You.

Irrigation Makes Them Certain!

If you're tired of struggling for a mere existence on an unproductive Eastern farm, and would like to get where crop profits will be quick and plenty, and where life will be worth living, please examine these facts regarding the Sacramento Valley lands in Golden California.

Made wonderfully rich and fertile by irrigating streams from the Sacramento River, these hundreds of thousands of acres of virgin soil are being converted quickly into one of the richest farm and fruit districts in the world by the Sacramento Valley Irrigation Company, of which Mr. W. S. Kuhn, of Pittsburgh, is President, and Mr. J. S. Kuhn, a Director.

The following figures tell the story of what is actually being accomplished by those already in the valley. These figures are published by three Chambers of Commerce and a State Board of Trade.

| Net Annual Profit Per Acre. | |
|-----------------------------|----------------------------|
| Almonds | $40-100 |
| Apples | 50-150 |
| Alfalfa | 40-80 |
| Asparagus | 100-250 |
| Beans | 60-100 |
| Buckwheat | 250-350 |
| Cherries | 100-325 |
| Sugar Beets | 30-75 |
| Figs | 100-200 |
| Grape Fruit | 75-200 |
| Grapes | Table, Wine, Raisin 50-150 |
| Lemons | $100-225 |
| Logan Berries | 150-450 |
| Oranges | 100-200 |
| Olive | 50-200 |
| Potatoes | 50-150 |
| Sweet or Irish | 50-150 |
| Peaches | 100-200 |
| Prunes | 100-200 |
| Plums | 100-200 |
| Strawberries | 150-300 |
| Tomatoes | 50-150 |
| Walnuts | 100-200 |

Much higher profits are frequently made in the yield from oranges, figs and lemons, often running as high as $2,500 to $3,000 per acre.

A Large Farm is Unnecessary.
Sacramento Valley farms of eighty and forty acres, and less, yield more profit than eastern farms many times the size. And what is best, you can secure your farm at the small outlay of only four cents an acre per day. The variety of crops is remarkable. The fertility of the soil is wonderful. The harvests many. The land works ten months of the twelve.

You Get Tip Top Prices at Ready Markets.
Markets are close at hand. Demand for products is always great. Prices paid for products are the highest.

Highways on two sides of each forty acre tract, the main line of the Southern Pacific Railroad running through the property, the nearby Sacramento River affording freight facilities the year round, close proximity to San Francisco and Sacramento—all these combine in providing for a sure market unexcelled anywhere.

And The Climate—
Nothing to equal it—not even that of Southern Italy, which has 220 sunny days a year against 238 Sacramento Valley days of sunshine. No freezing frosts. No droughts. No washouts.
